JOE GRAY PARDONED.

THE ONE ACCUSED MURDERER

OF EMILY OAVIS RETURNS HOME.

BELIEVED TO BE A BADLY TREATED MAN, AFTER HE HAS LOST SEVEN YEARS OF HIS LIBERTY.

Who Is The Murderer?

Because of receiving a pardon from Gov. Brown, Joe Gray, colored, was released from the Edinburg penitentiary Sunday morning, and he arrived in this city Monday.

This revises the history of the most atrocious crime that was ever committed in the county.

It will be remembered that about the 1st of June, 1885, Emily Davis, a young white girl, who had just about attained her womanhood, was found murdered at a spring in a deep hollow and dense forest, near her home in the Edinburg neighborhood. Her head was smashed into a jelly, and the weapon used, a large round stone, was found lying by the murdered girl's side, covered with brains and blood.

Joe Gray was arrested on the 4th of June, 1885, and lodged in the Edinburg jail, charged with committing the horrible deed. The excitement throughout the county rose high, and only through the quick work of the county officers was Gray saved from mob violence. Sheriff A. M. DeJernette, with sufficient guard, spirited him away and boarded the steamer Grey Eagle at Cloverport bound for Louisville. As soon as the boat was under way, the excitement of his escape, they formed into two bodies and started across the country to head the steamer off, one crowd going to Concordia and the other to Brandenburg. The one to Concordia was several hours too late, but as the crowd to Brandenburg was entering the little city, the gallant steamer was pulling out into the river, having run 20 miles up stream while the mob was riding about 20 miles over good roads, and Joe Gray was saved.

In October he was returned to Hardinburg for trial under a strong guard of deputy sheriffs, which had to be kept up during the trial.

There was no positive evidence against Gray and only a meagre chain of circumstantial evidence, with many missing links. Owing to the pressure of sentiment and public opinion, however, the jury found him guilty and sentenced him to the penitentiary for life.

Since that time the feeling of the people has changed. While in the Logansport jail, Gray was submitted to the severest tests by the finest detectives in the land, among them being the noted Yankee High, and he said that by no other lock, action or word could he be anything that would indicate Gray's guilt, and that it was his opinion that he was innocent.

A few weeks ago a petition to Gov. Brown for the pardon of Gray was put in circulation and it was signed by almost every prominent citizen in the county, which resulted as has been stated.

Gray is a pleasant, open-faced, and honest-looking darkey, and has no apprehensions about him whatever of being a bad man. It is the opinion of everybody that he has been a much wronged man, and it can be truly said that he is perfectly safe now in his home county.

Everybody thinks that Gray did a righteous act by giving him his liberty. Who the murderer of Emily Davis may never be positively known, but there are circumstantial evidences that would cause nearer fastening the guilt upon other persons than Gray.
